CONCEPTS IN CLASS ADVISORS

ESSAY QUESTION 1: WHAT IS A TED LEVY?

A Ted Levy is geographically located in hot room 113, and hanging around the senior lounge, in the library educating himself for the benefit of his students. He can be seen holding the "world" down with his right foot, or heard asking at the beginning of class, "Does anybody have a lifesaver?"

His activities include supervising our classes' artistic abilities on such occasions as Spirit Day, and the junior prom.

When confronted with the question, "should our class have a senior prom," his reply was "sure, I look great in a tux!". And when we asked this advisor if $4000.00 was too much to spend on the senior prom, his calm reply was . . . ARE YOU OUT OF YOUR MINDS?"

This is a Ted Levy, along with one pair of blue eyes, a quick smile, and the dedication, and thoughtfulness that goes along with a great teacher, and advisor . . .

To you, we say . . . thanks

TO THE CLASS OF 1972:

1972 has a special meaning in the history of Elwood, and John Glenn in particular. Ten years ago the first students entered our school. During this time many fine accomplishments have become part of our history. Academically, our students have competed with the best in the country and have held their own, if not shown their superiority. Athletically, our students have achieved outstanding results in all areas. Most of all, it is my feeling that the staff of the Elwood School System has helped a great deal to develop fine citizens who are capable of contributing positively to our society.

Over a thousand students have joined our alumni since our first graduating class of 1963. It has been my pleasure to know, or be associated with all of the students in some capacity. I would say, without fear of contradiction, that they are some of the finest young people one could meet, and the Class of 1972 is no exception.

It is my sincere desire that your involvement at John H. Glenn will help you to face, understand and deal with life's challenges. May I extend to each of you best wishes for a fruitful and rewarding life.

Very truly yours,

John W Wright

Why have senior favorites? Tradition? Pigeon Holing? Whethe or not any of you realize it, most every senior was nominated fo some favorite. Perhaps if you had been honored with one of th titles you would realize the significance of being singled out fo your achievement. We want to congratulate the seniors on th preceeding pages, and hope that some of you will see why it rea ly does matter.

Was it D, C, A, B, or . . .

"Fight!"

Ahh, come on . . .

I got rhythm, I got rhythm.

Smile!

We've got to stop meeting like this!

What are you bothering me for?

Is this good enough . . .?

I don't understand?

Do you think we'll ever learn the steps?

Gee, I didn't know that!

Oh, who said I can't play the drums

How can you say things like that?

Do you want to take the opera lessons, or not?

Hey, that was a good one.

Oh, my god . . .

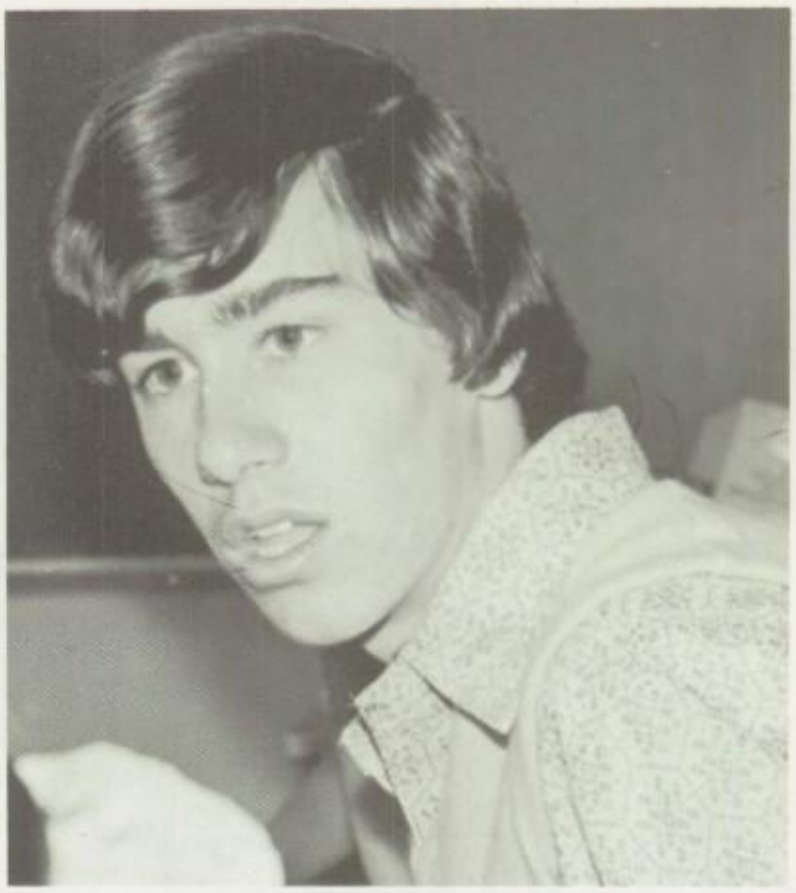
Oh, they're not as bad as they look

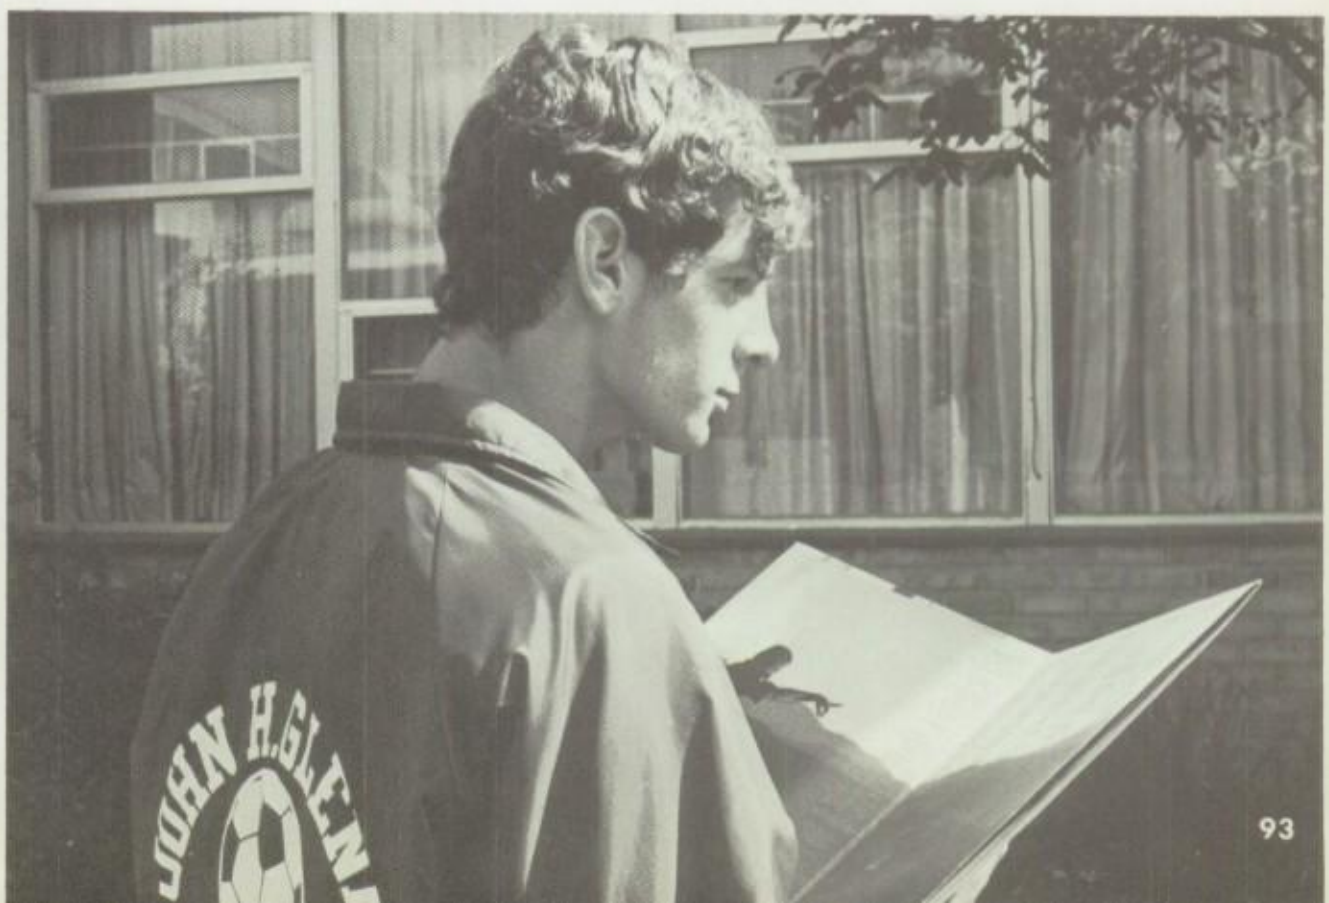
The problem stems from . . .

Is this for the yearbook?

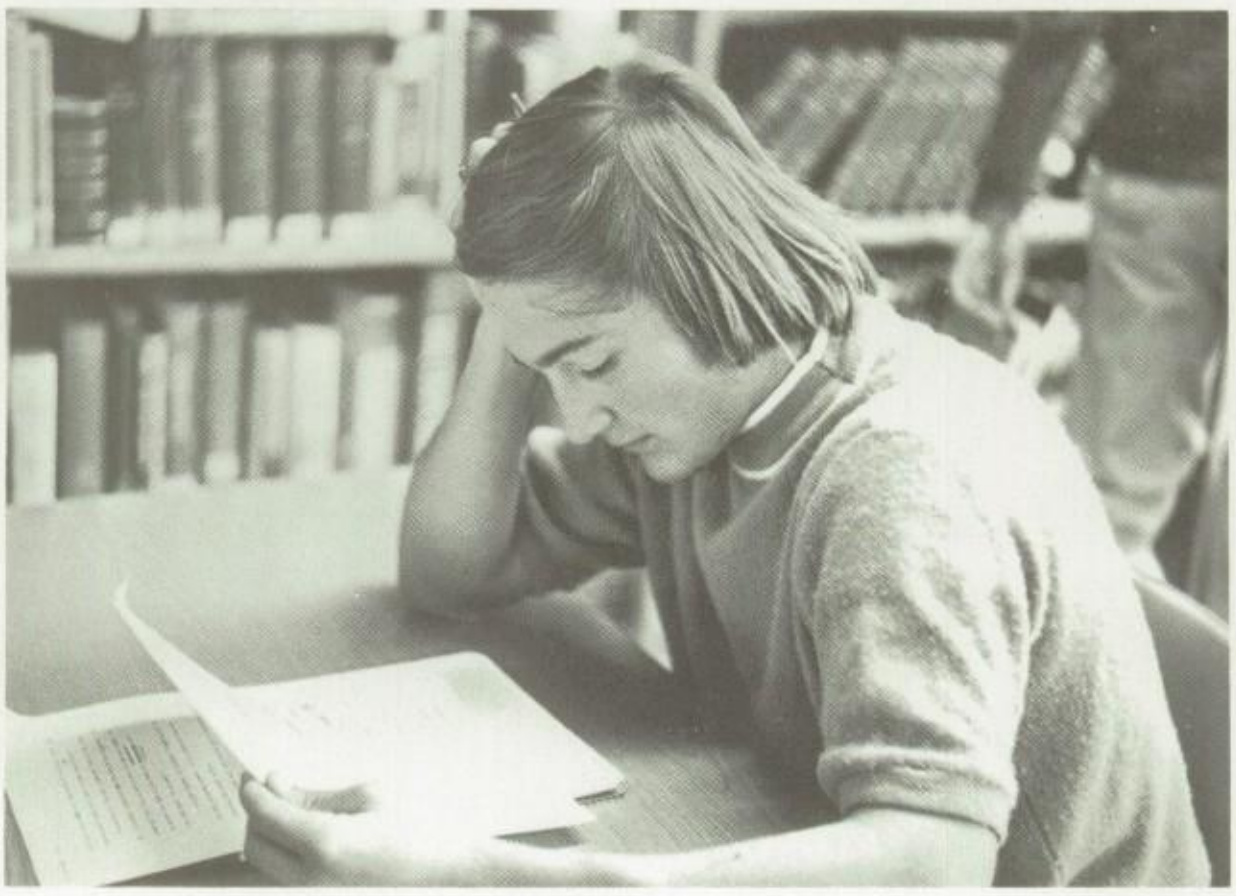
Hey look, if my mother sees this . . .

Are you kidding?





Why isn't it working?

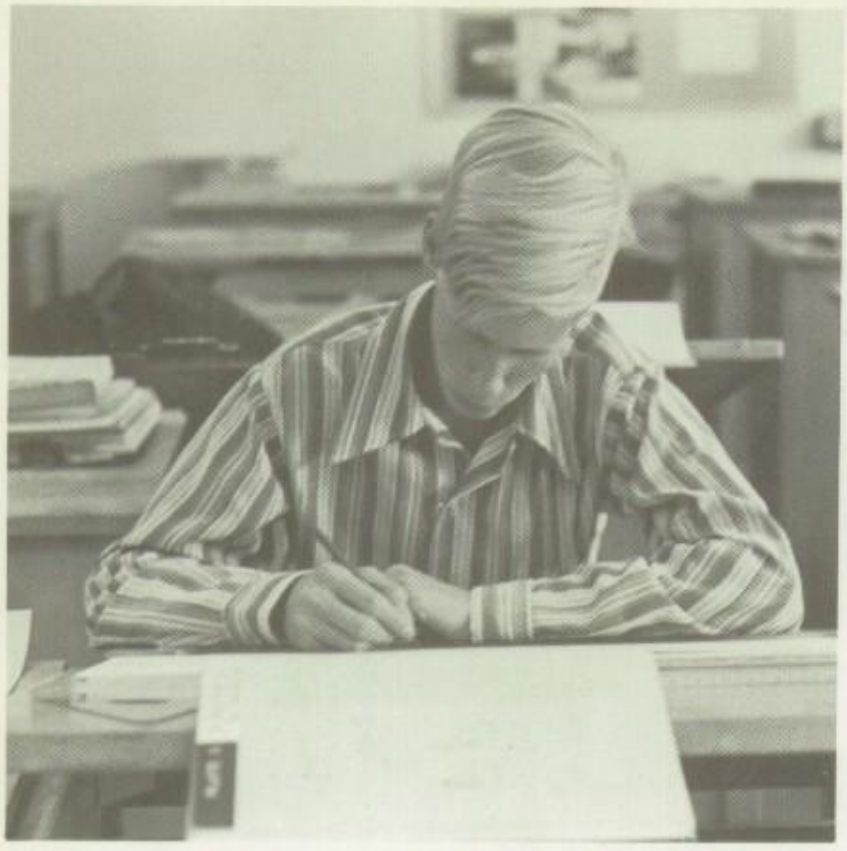


We only do this for shock tactics.

Oh no, another mistake . . .

I told you I didn't want my picture in the book.

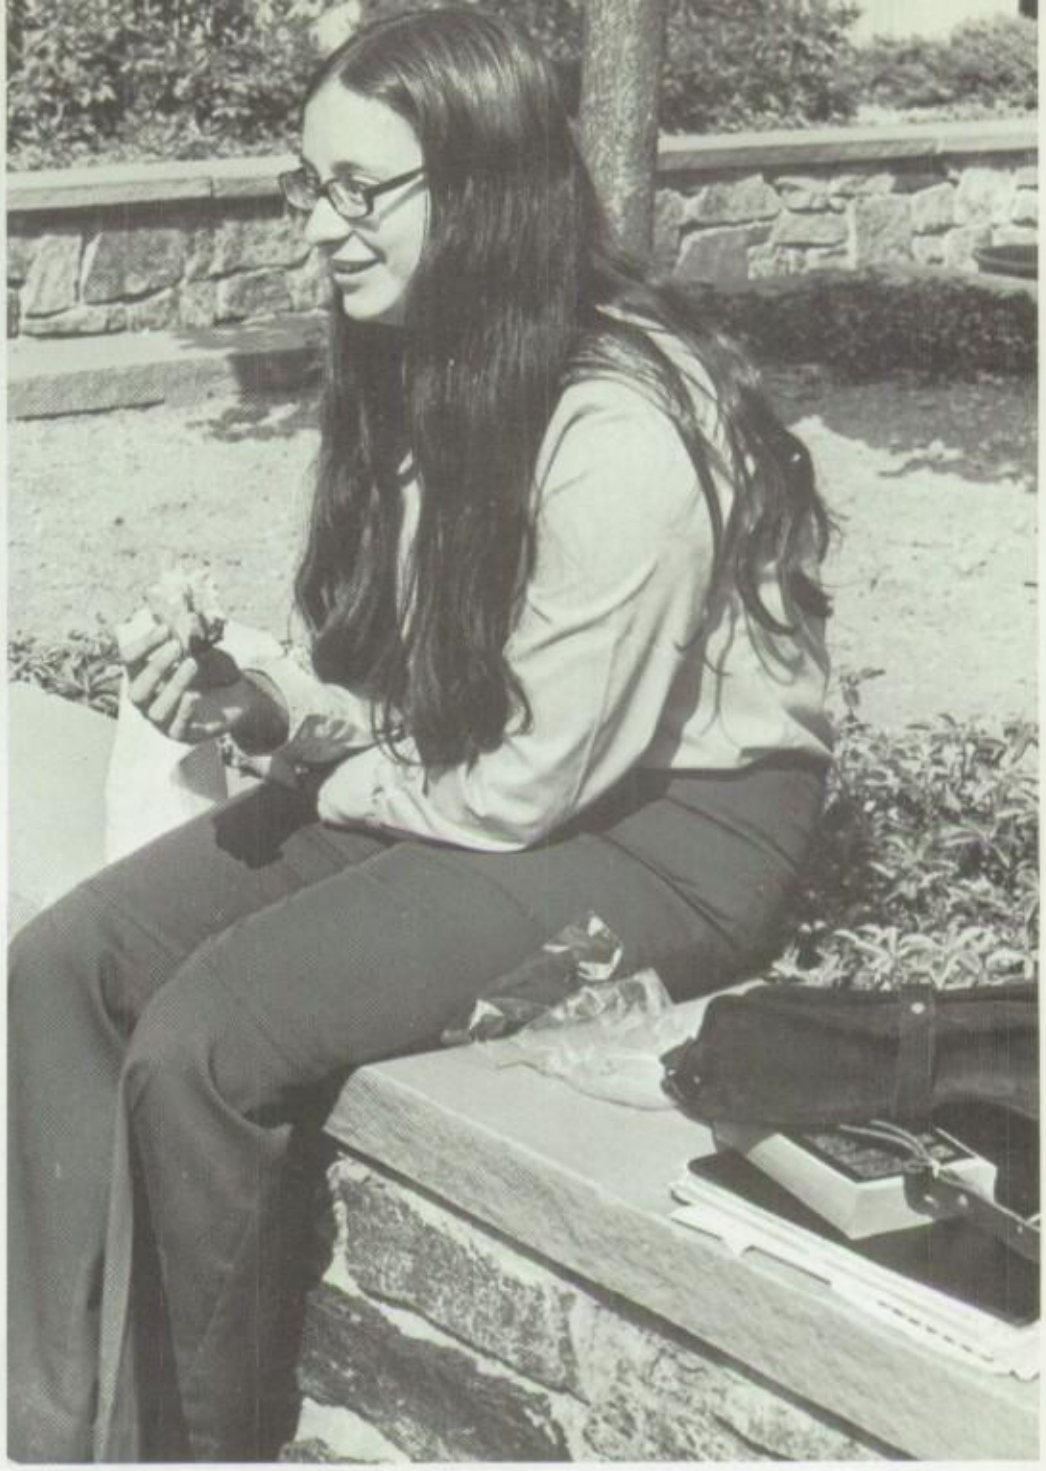
You don't have to be so unreasonable.



Well, there goes another one . . .

But I want to do it my way.

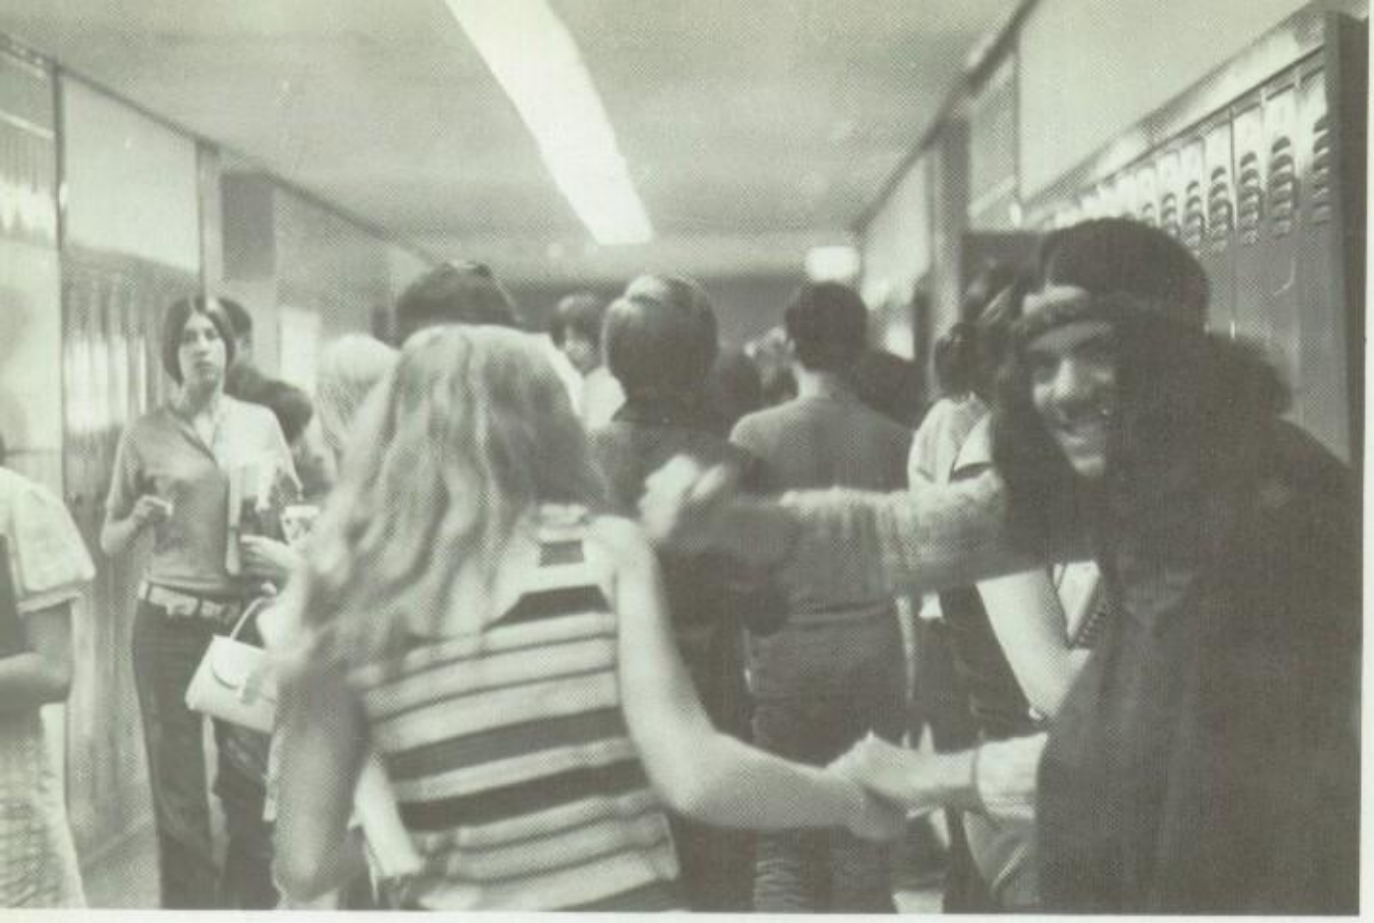
You know what I got on the test?

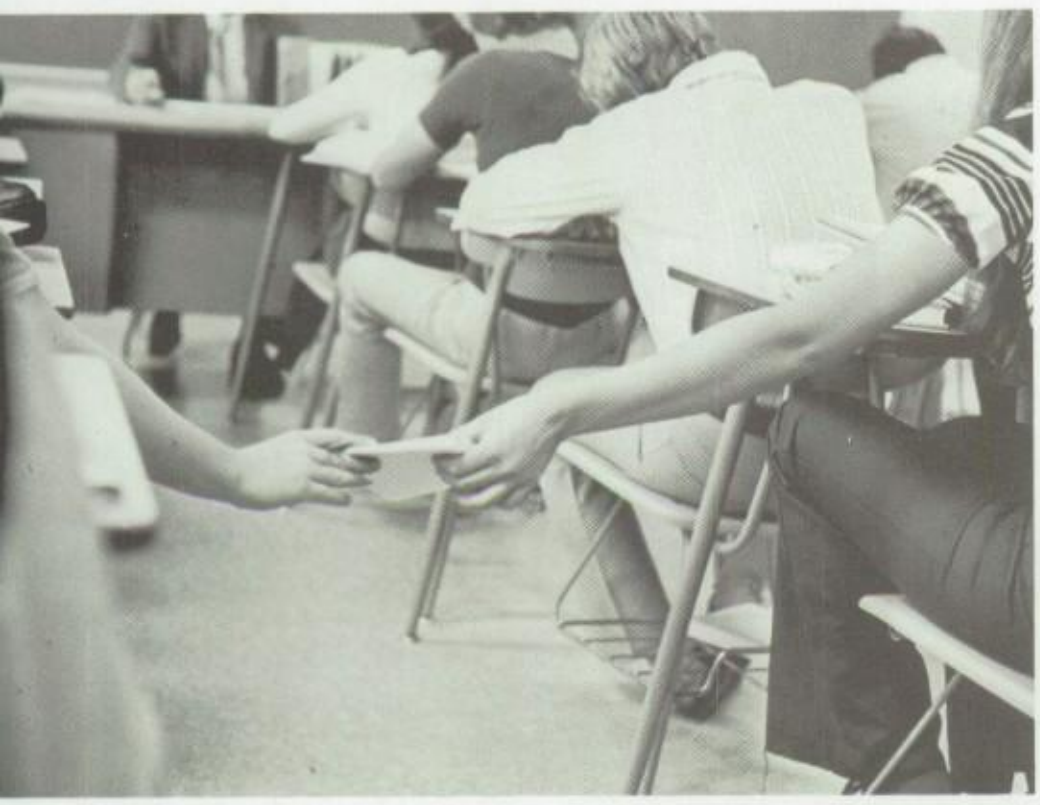


Well, it's better than the school lunch!

It's not going to work . . .

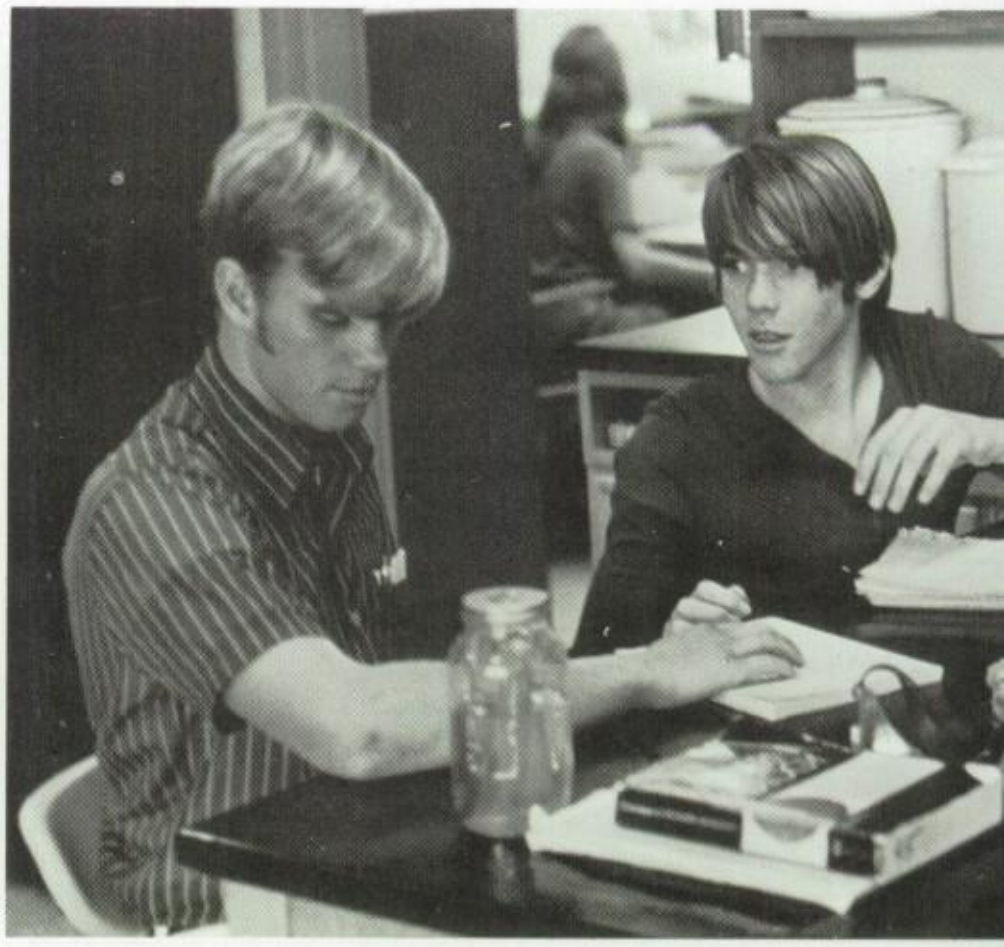
UNDERCLASSMEN





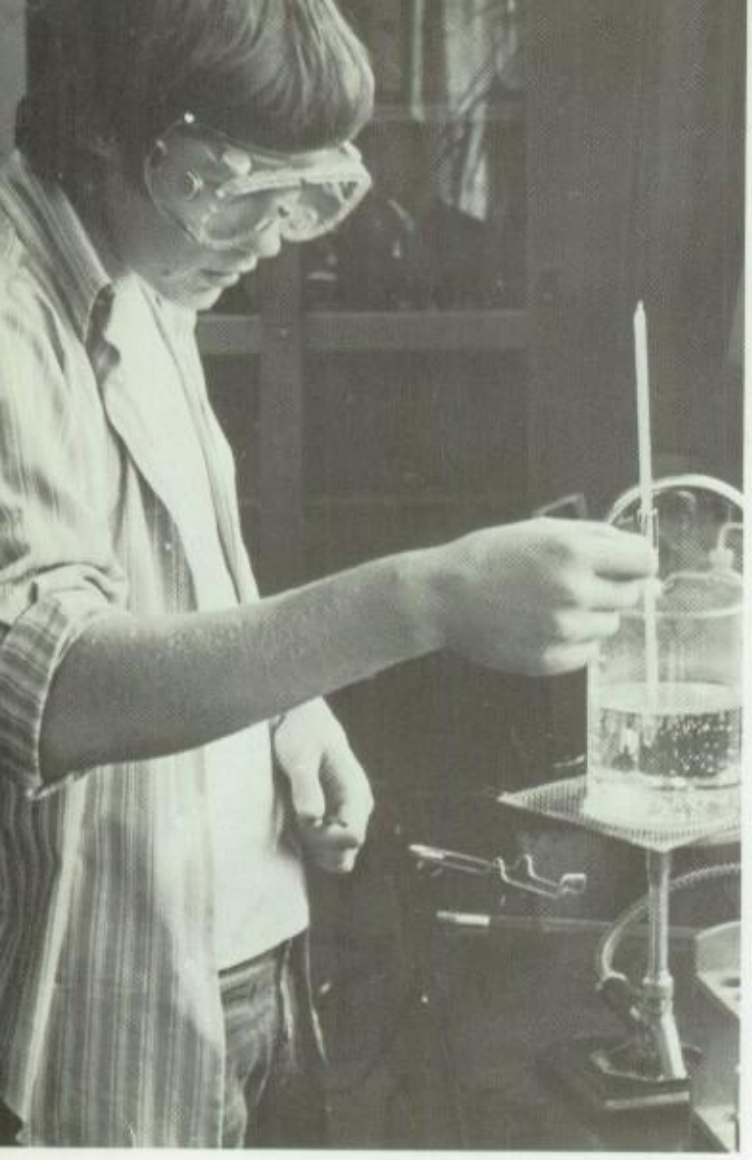
Oh, you don't have to do it that way.

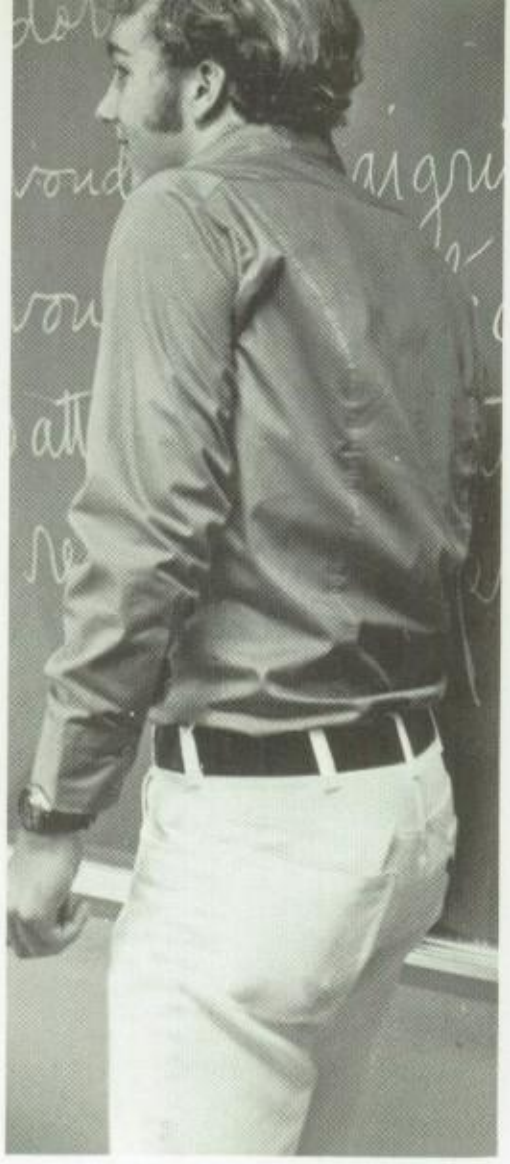
I think it's 96°.



Are you sure that's right?

Coffee, tea, or me?

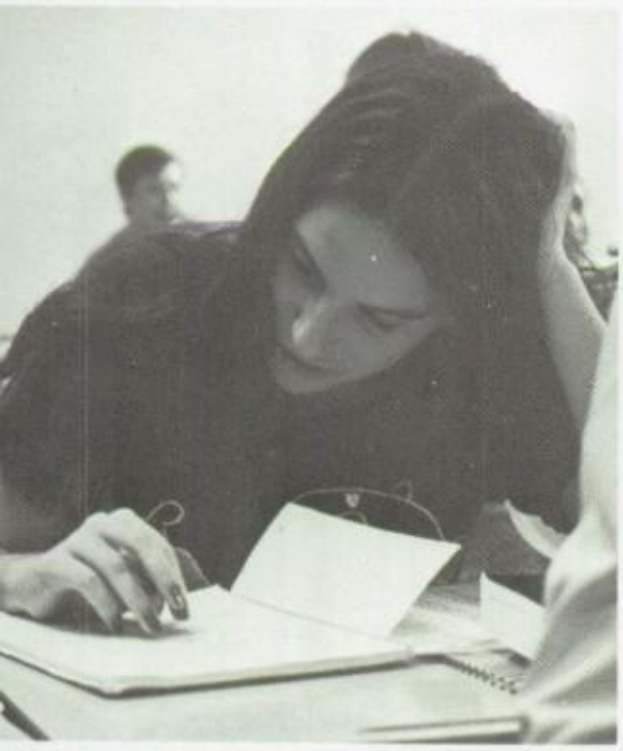


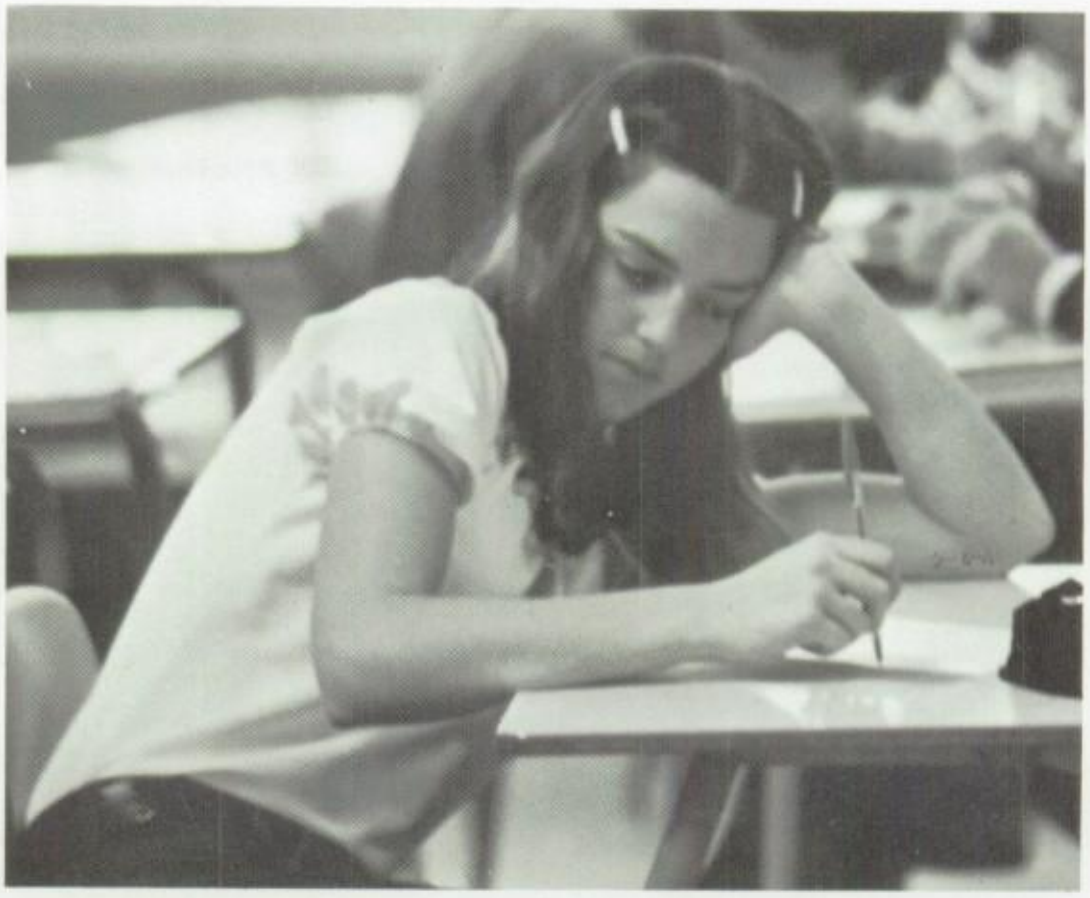


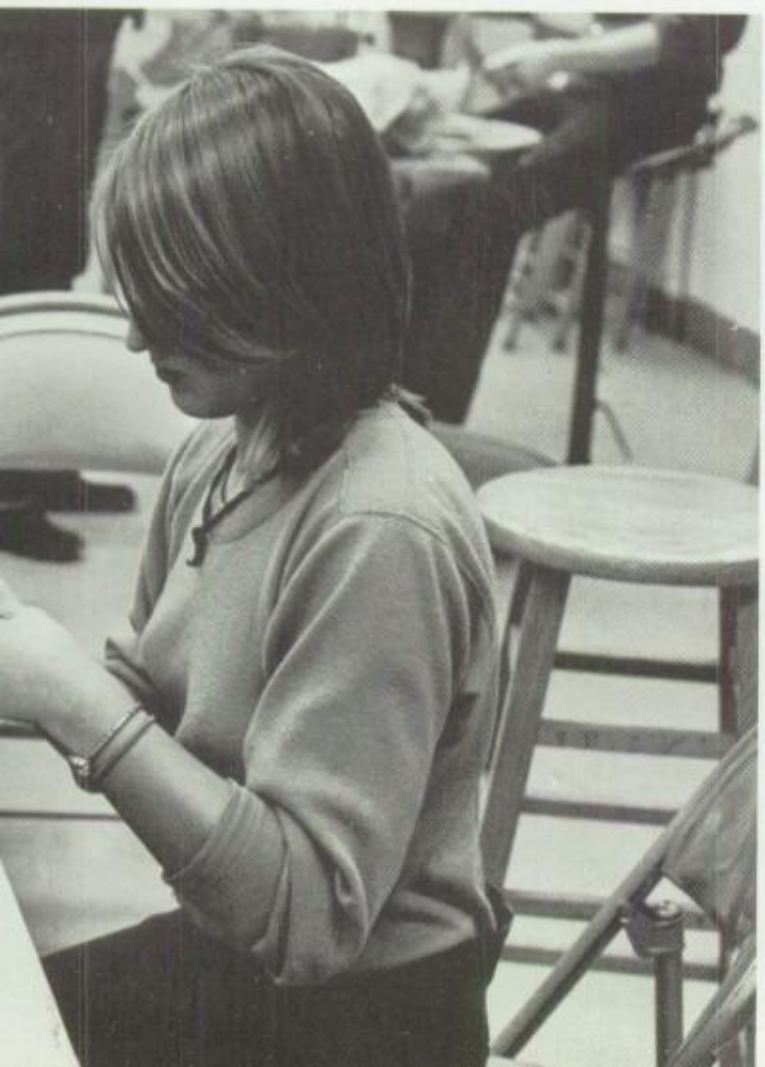
No one's perfect.

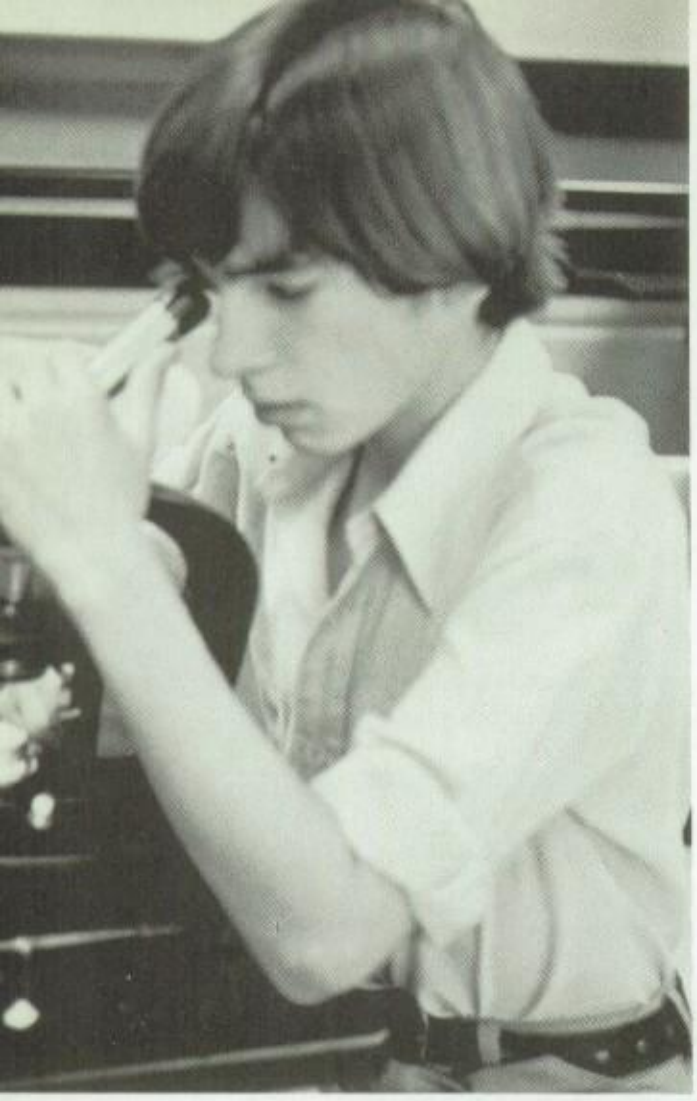
Did you get the last figure?

I thought this was my project?





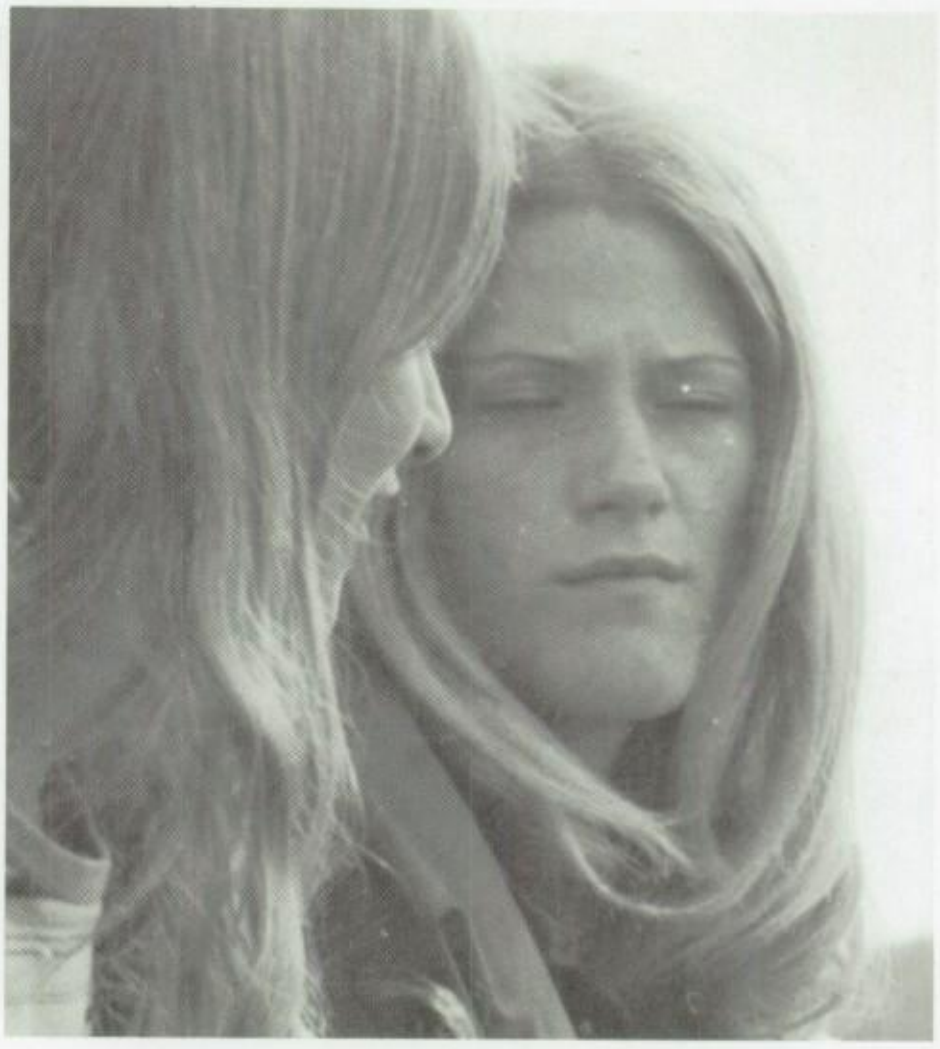




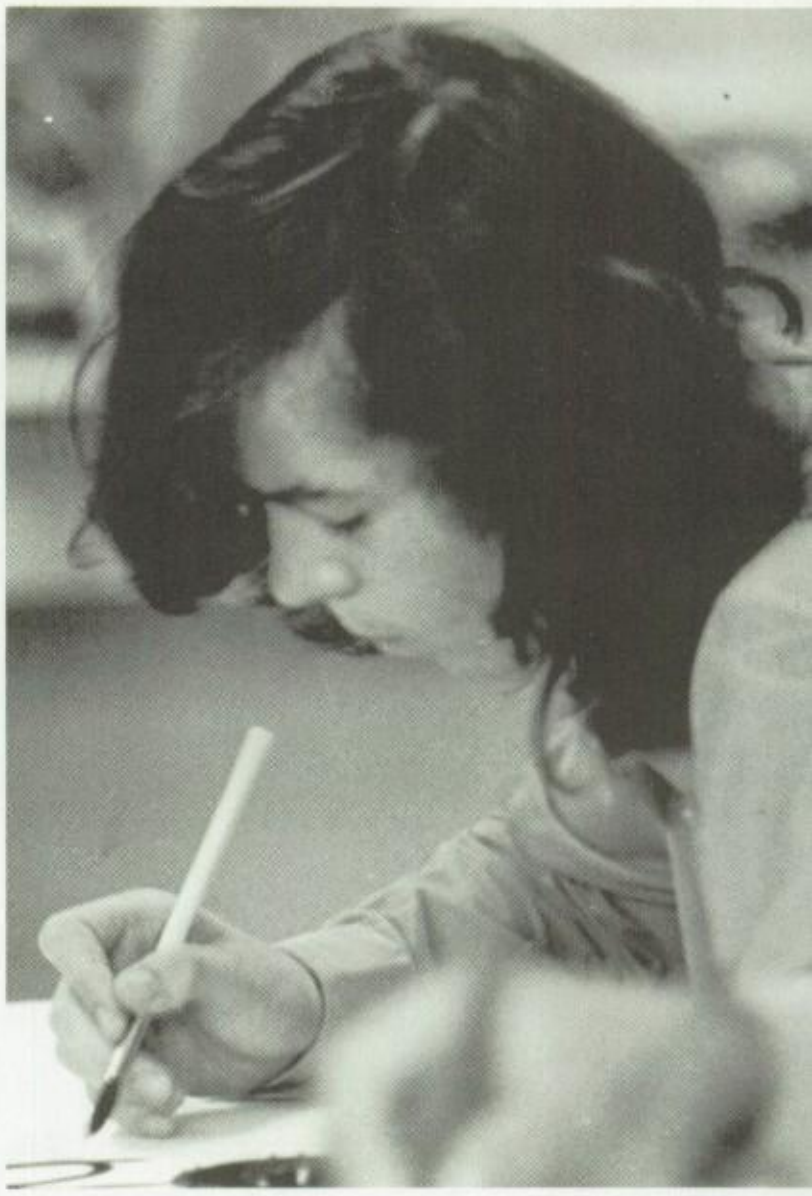
SINGER

One day I'll be a gourmet cook!

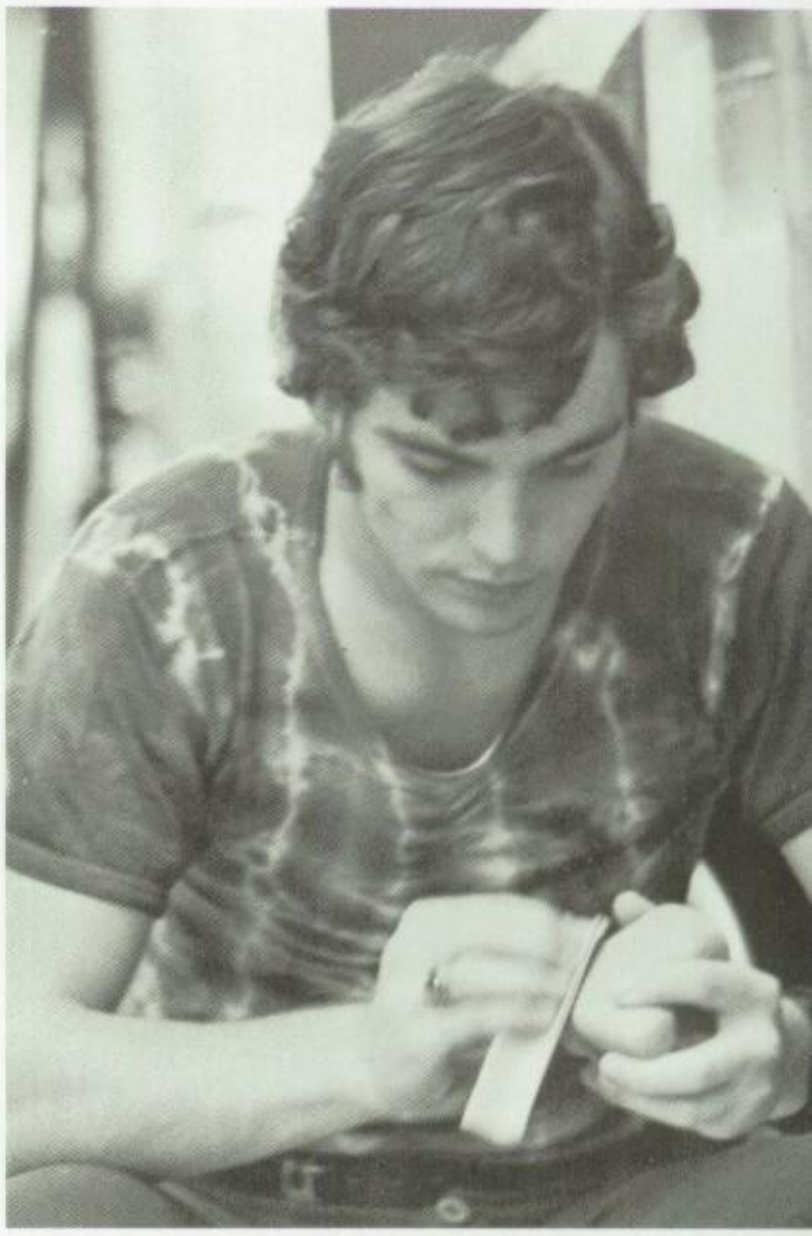
If she wore her dress any shorter!



You may be my friend, but . . .

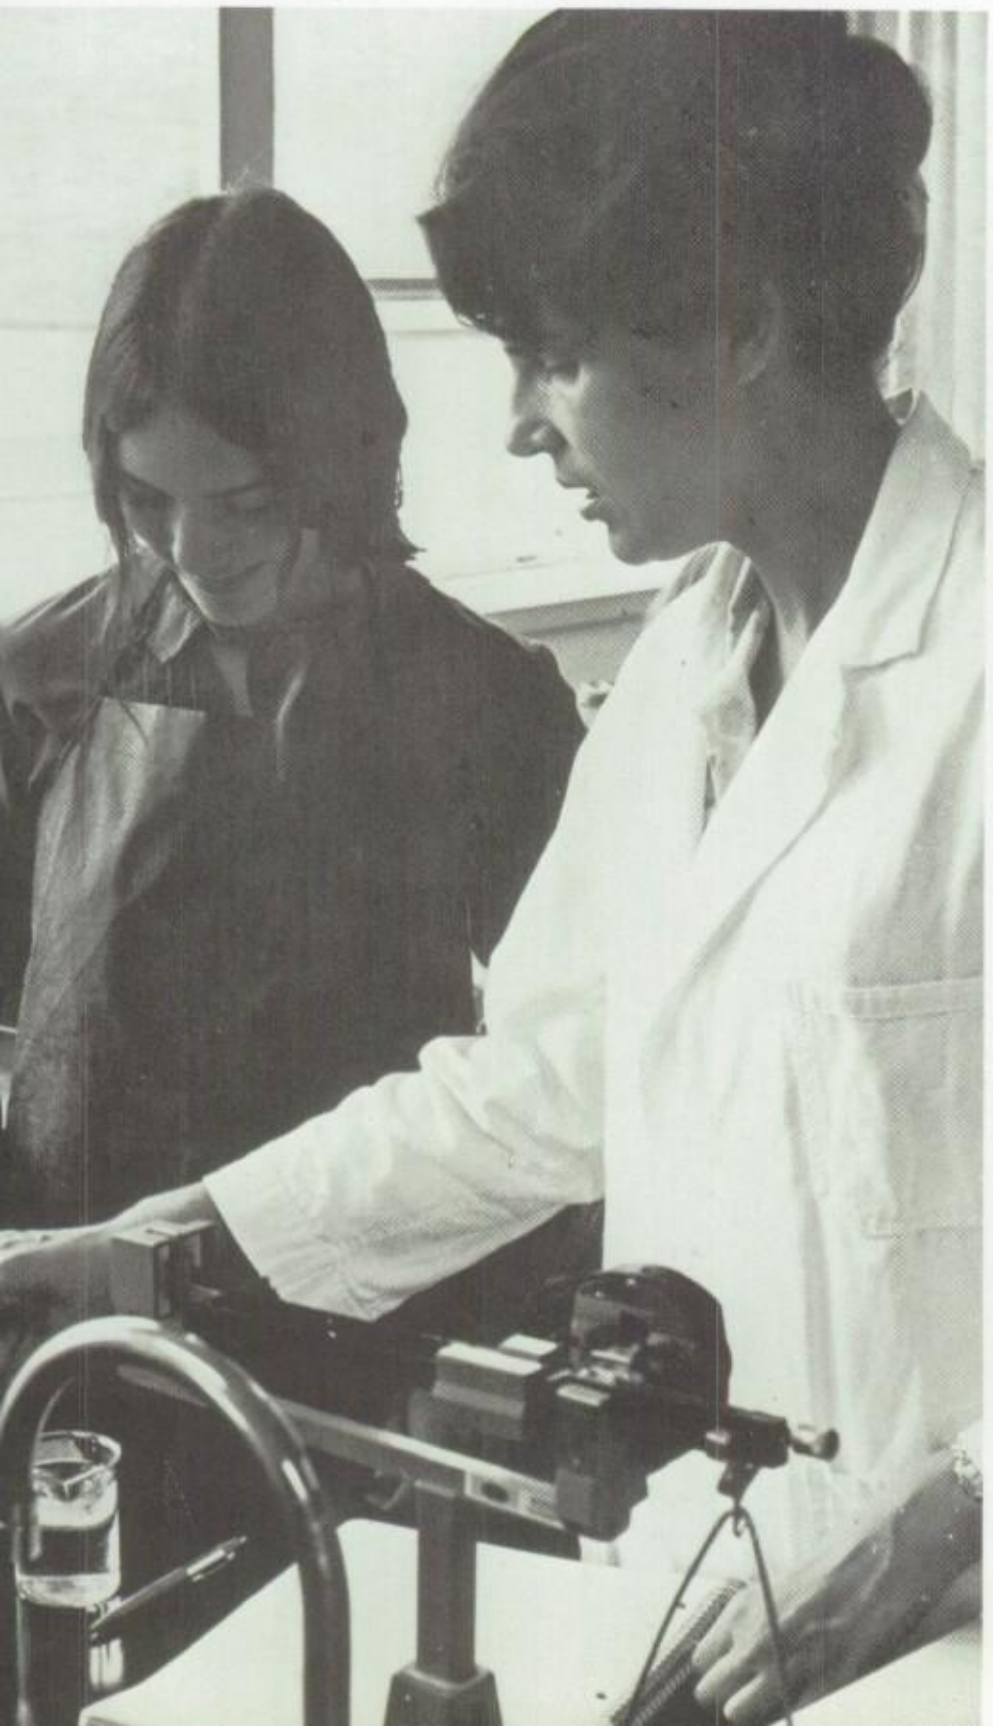


And for this I'm getting a grade.

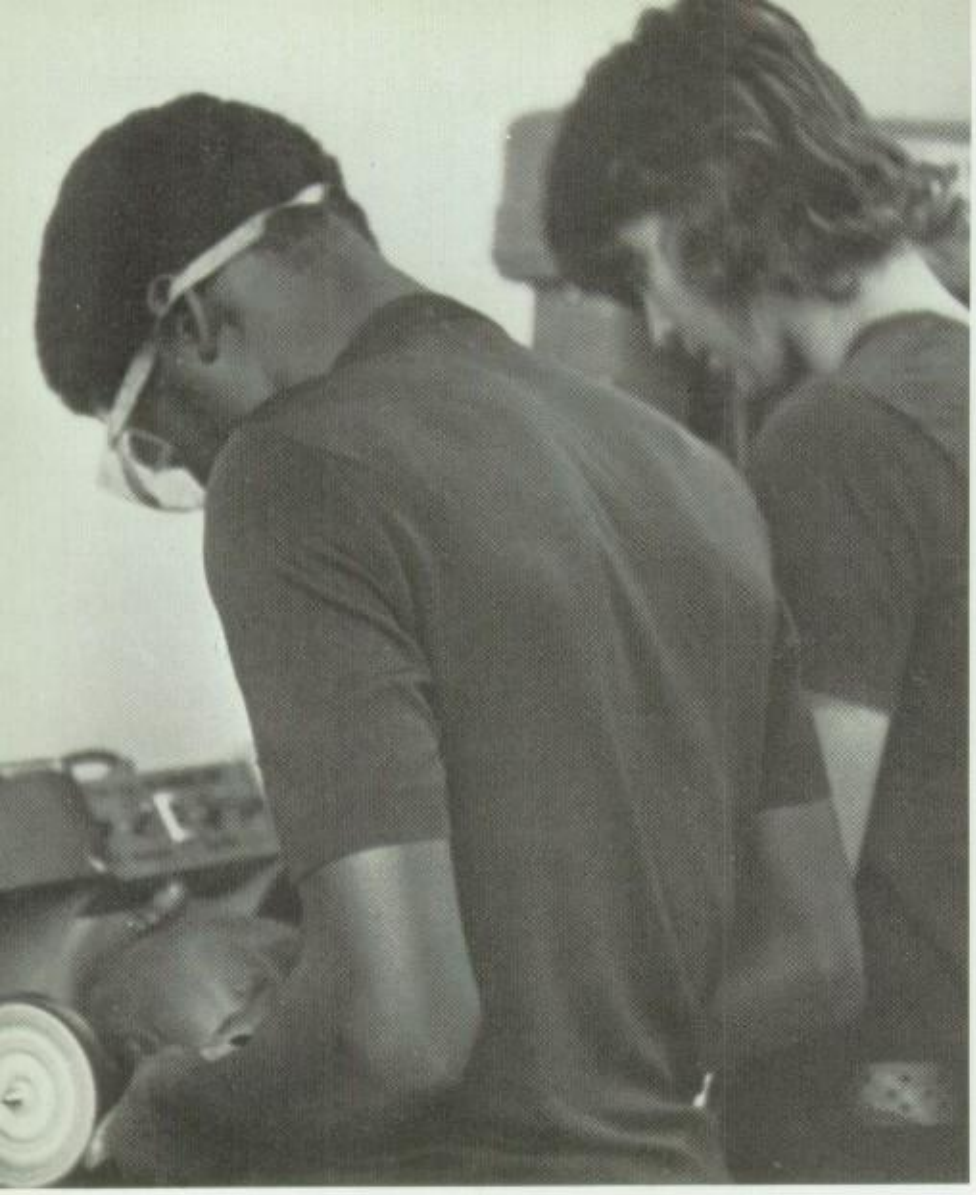


If I sand it anymore I'll have my own beach.

This is a pretty neat class . . .



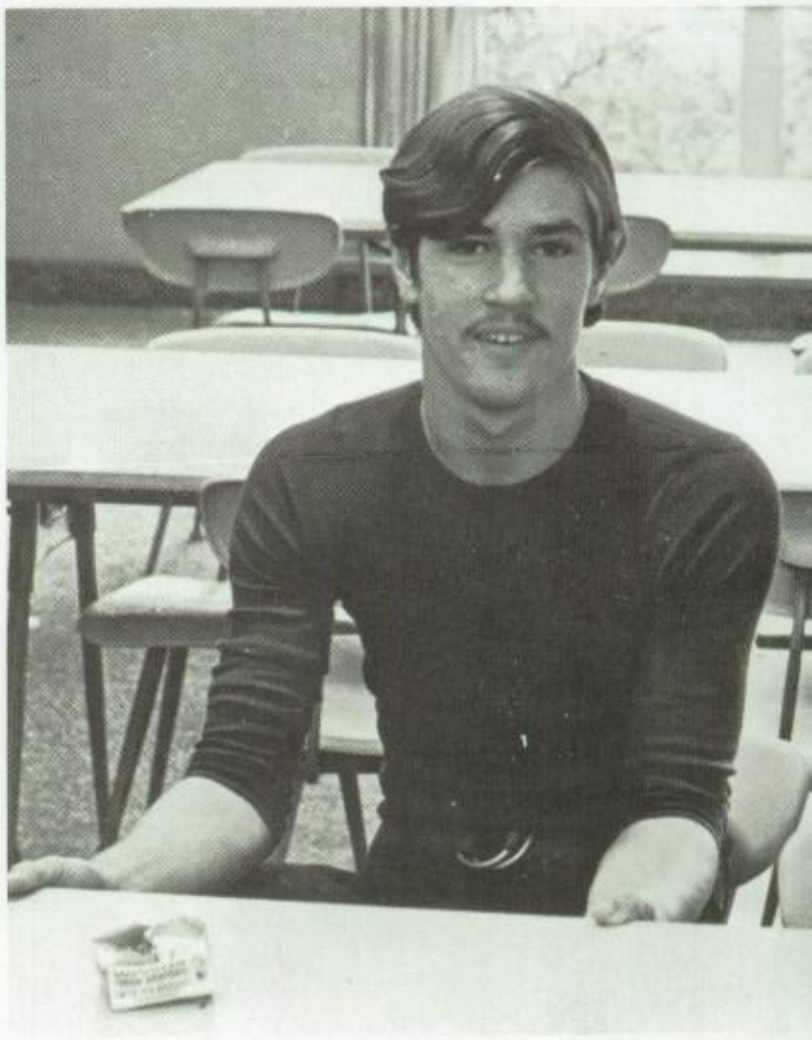
I feel really ridiculous in this!



Where are your goggles?

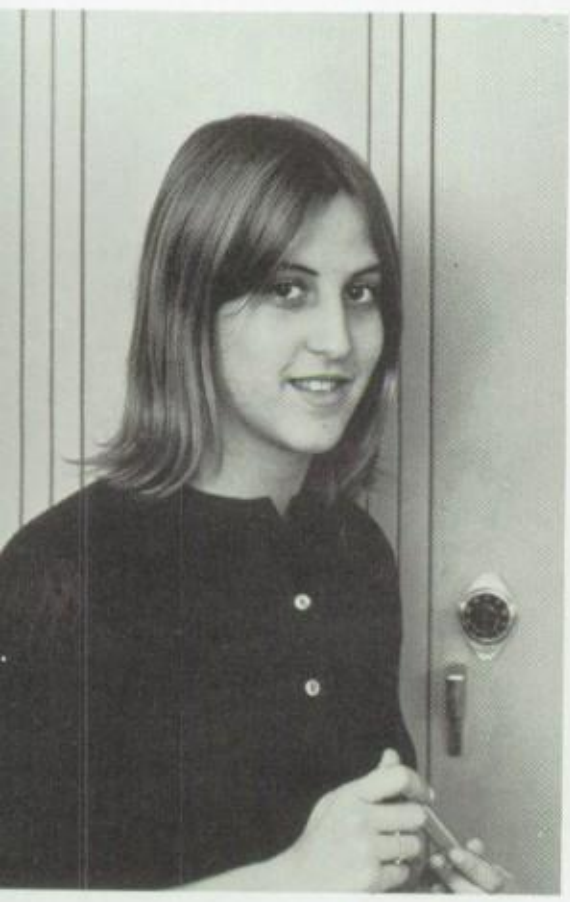
To be, or not to be . . .

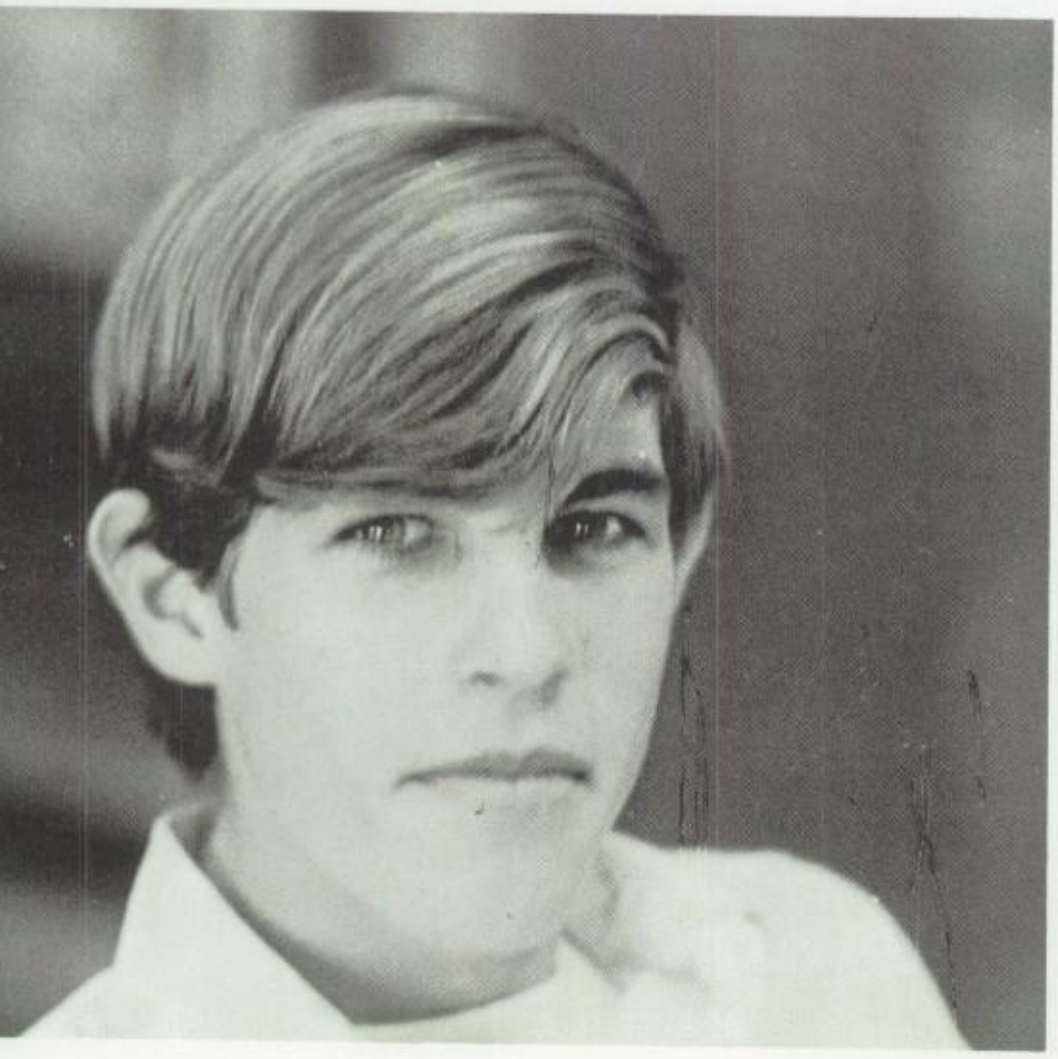
You heard that about me?



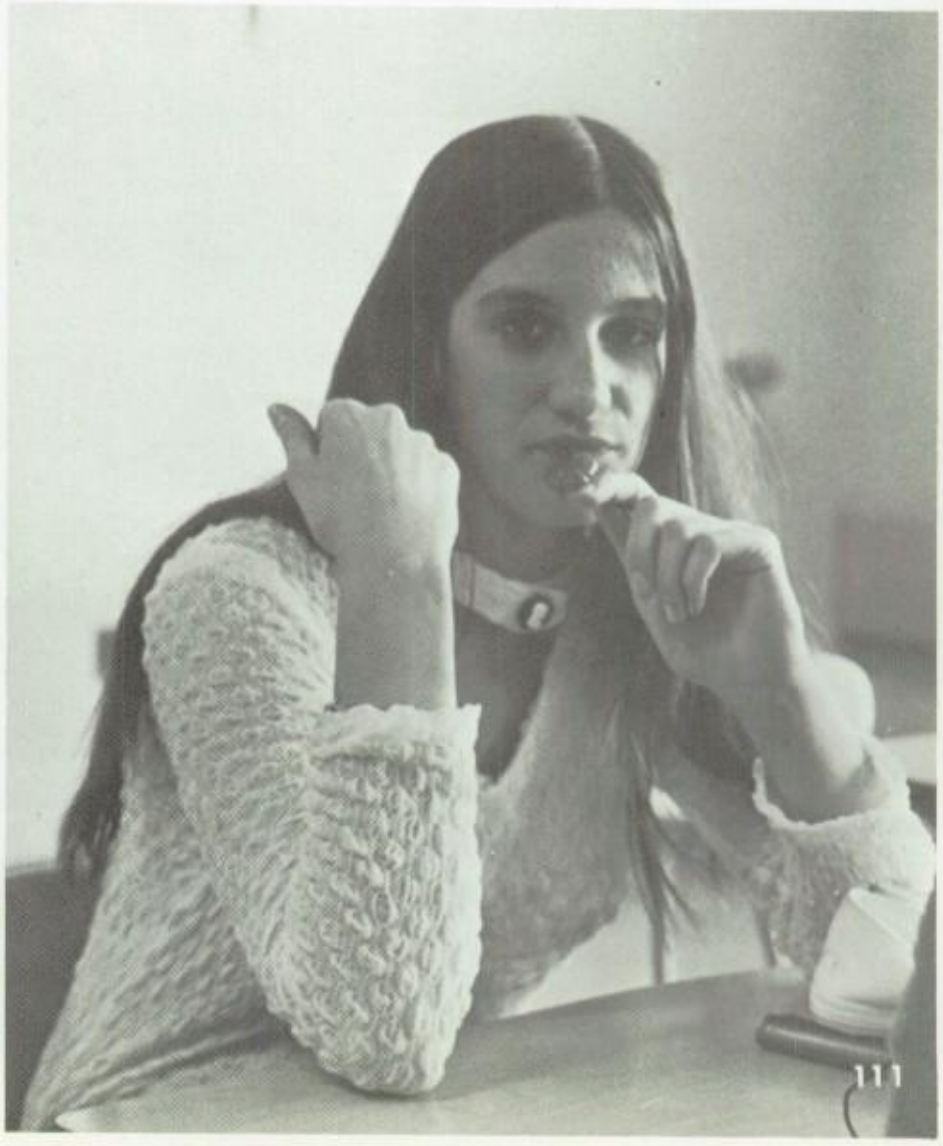
I'm so beautiful!

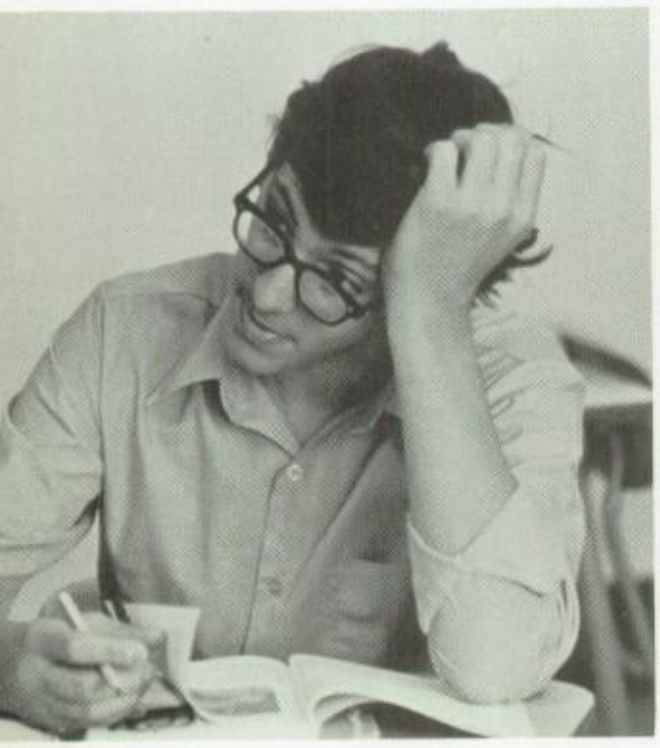
I came back, to . . .

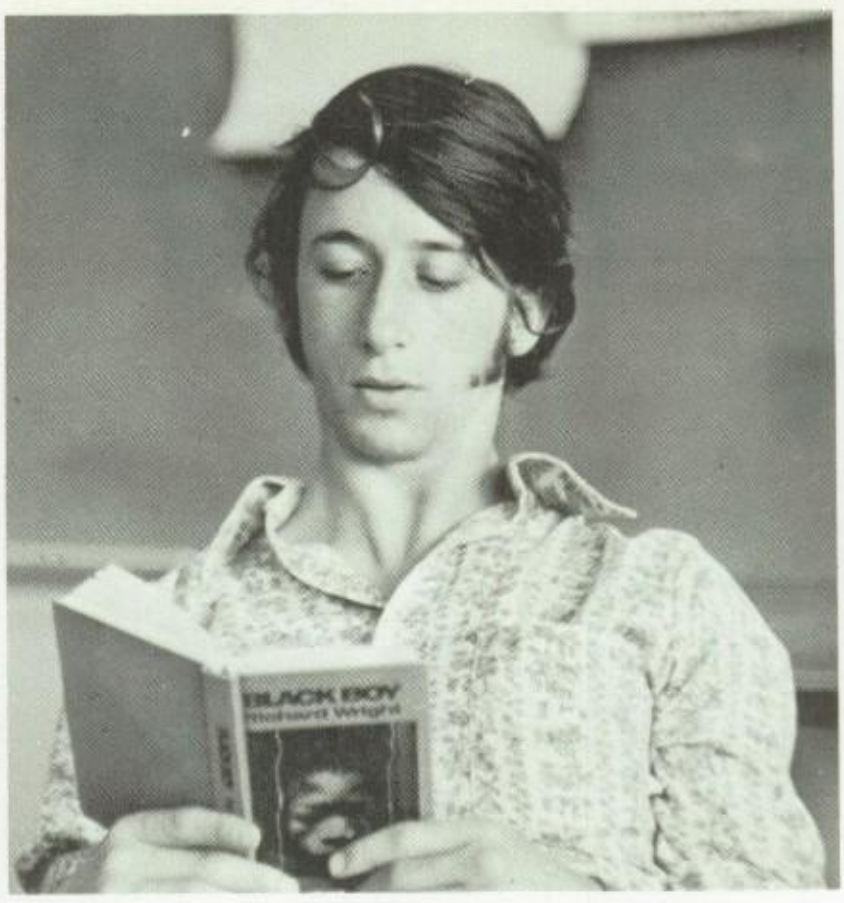




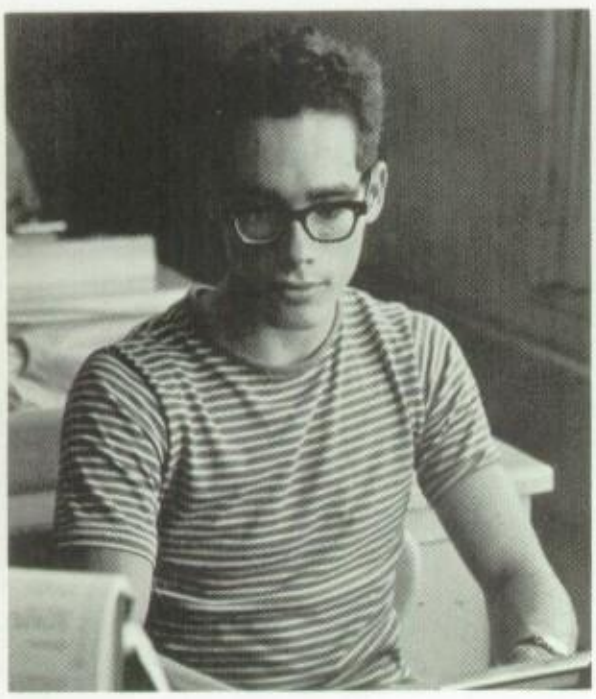
look at the legs on that one!







I really don't understand this.



Oh, we're winning, we're winning!

If I could only get it right . . .

If Einstein could see me now!

In thoroughly analyzing my trip, I would qualify it as an adventure; I say adventure because I came without knowing any english. For this, I am very sorry because with a knowledge of english, everthing would've been easier and better for me; nevertheless, one need not understand the language in order to be aware of the friendships and kindness of the American people, and appreciate that the United States are really marvelous. I have only the most favorable impression of this great country, and I will fervently present them in my country, Paraguay.

Undeniably, the American Field Service is a great educational enterprise for the youth of the world. I shall always be proud to have been a part of it, and shall ever be thankful to this organization. I have had such wonderful and useful experiences that I shall never forget them. If I had to ask for something, it is that tomorrow and forever, we will work together with the A.F.S., even though we are unaware it contributes something towards the peaceful co-existence between large and small nations of the entire world.

My sincere thanks to all those that in one way or another have made my stay here a happy one, and very, very special thanks to my high school, John Glenn, and above all to my beloved family, the Doyles, for whom I cannot find words to express my utmost gratitude. To all my American brothers and sisters go my sentiments of love and wishes for happiness. May good will, truth and love triumph. May peace reign.

Thank you, Sal, and Chuck, for typing.

The importance of this yearbook does not lie in its accomplishments, but in the happy memories its pages record. It hasn't been easy editing this documentary of a year's events, and the efforts will be appreciated mostly by those interested in the spelling of their names on that all-important page. However these efforts have enabled me to work with and meet some of the finest students and faculty around.

To my staff, a group of energetic, and patient people, I truly appreciate all the typing, scheduling, and writing you did. Your reward is holding the "real thing" in your hands. You couldn't have done a better job. To the business staff — thanks for the left-over boosters that cluttered up my office; to the photo staff, thanks for your terrific "speed" and fantastic pictures. And to those who tried to help, yet couldn't work within the limitations, thanks anyway.

And how do I say thanks to Dragon (John Dragonetti). You let your "flakey" group do most of what we wanted to, and you provided us with one year of unforgettable "fun" — and it was fun! I guess you don't need to hear the words, you know how we feel.

Oh, and Charlie, thanks for all your help, and that's not from me, the editor, that's from me, the student.

EVERYTHING YOU'VE ALWAYS WANTED TO KNOW ABOUT SENIORS*
*BUT WERE AFRAID TO ASK . . . 1972 Senior Variety Show

We'd like to teach the kids at Glenn
to work in harmony,
So there'll come a
day when we can say,
we keep good company.

The six years that
have come and gone,
we'll think of all
our lives. The cuts,
the bells, the lounge,
and quells, we've battled and survived.

Cold locker rooms, the leaky halls, the band
and its strange sound,
We're leaving that to Roy and Frat . . . who prowl these sacred grounds.

We've sought hard for identity, and learned
what we must be.
Sincere to our cause,
and show responsibility.

Listening with patience and accepting what we say, steering us when we go wrong, these things we can't repay . . .
. . . it's the real thing,
now we're out on our own. Time to show how we've grown . . .
. . . thanks for everything.

May 6, 1971 — A Day We'll All Remember

Students are told to report to homeroom, but refuse.

The students who walked out, between 300 and 400 of 850, were scarcely revolutionaries. The editor of the paper led the march to the district office, several blocks from the school. The outgoing and incoming student body presidents were among the demonstration leaders, and had sent the board a letter earlier in the week with the open campus request which was approved by the student body.

Requests included off-campus lunch, use of the library and gym when not in scheduled use, movement in the halls, without a pass, and use of the school grounds, in nice weather.

Those students, willing to march, wait outside the school.

The march begins —

Once arrived, the students patiently waited for their spokesman to retreat from the schoolhouse — with hopeful news of his meeting.

Tom awaits an audience with the district principal, reviewing the points of the open-campus concept.

ot only did the students chieve a majority of their oals, but communication lines etween students and faculty ere opened. We were not to- lly defeated, and through our ommunication we can only rive to keep it that way.

With some sense of accomplishments, the students came back to school. Classes were suspended, and students and faculty combined to exchange ideas, and desires. Present everywhere we went, was our symbol of democracy — our flag.

Christmas Caroling Dec. 23

Through all this good will John Glenn raised $1140 for a needy family in Elwood.

Mr. Gatto was one of the best and most dedicated coaches John H. Glenn h ever had. He has been very successful in coaching our runners. The team has nev had a losing season, and the lowest we placed in League IV was third place, and have sent runners to the state meets. Mr. Gatto will not be coaching Glenn tra anymore, but instead has left the Glenn team to coach the Farmingdale Colle track team. No one could appreciate his coaching and jokes more than the Gle runners. We would like to express our thanks and feelings of gratitude to Mr. Gat and wish him luck in his future years of coaching.

J.V. football is the training ground where skills including endurance, agility, and a background for varsity football are developed. Some of our j.v. players were successful in their training, that they were moved up to our varsity team, which shows great potential on the part of the players, and ability of the coaches.

OTHERS

LORD HELP ME LIVE FROM DAY TO DAY, IN SUCH A SELF-FORGETFUL WAY
THAT EVEN WHEN I KNEEL TO PRAY,
MY PRAYER'S SHALL BE FOR OTHERS.
HELP ME IN ALL THE WORK I DO,
TO EVER BE SINCERE AND TRUE,
AND KNOW THAT ALL I DO FOR YOU-MUST BE DONE FOR "OTHERS."
AND WHEN MY WORK ON EARTH IS DONE,
AND MY NEW WORK IN HEAVEN BEGUN,
MAY I FORGET THE CROWN I'VE WON,
WHILE THINKING STILL OF "OTHERS"
OTHERS LORD, YES OTHERS-
LET THIS MY MOTTO BE HELP ME TO LIVE FOR OTHERS,
THAT I MAY LIVE FOR THEE.

Craftsmen In Residence

The Professional Growth Committee (a district committee) granted the school funds to bring in local, professional crafts men to spend a day with our students. The craftsmen bring their own specialized equipment, finished work and their store experience and knowledge, and is given a place to work in the building where many students and teachers can easily see an hear. The craftsmen 'do their thing' for assembled classes (usually craft and art classes) but frequently includiing classe from other disiplines. As the work progresses, ideas, techniques, philosophy, etc. emerge which, in total, are a statement o a way of life which is characteristic of the artist.

The value's which make up the artists way of life are important to all students in that they constitute a concept of self-dis cipline. As self-discipline develops, values are clarified, reinforced or diminished. It is this process as well as the craftsmen' attitudes towards his material, techniques and products that are transmittable by bringing craftsmen and students togethe
